To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing on behalf of my student, Jonathan Calvin. I had Jonathan in class last year in US History. While in my class he exhibited great educational achievement and growth, he is the type of individual that will do his best to work on and complete a task. He is consistently a hard worker, putting much effort and time into his studies.

Jonathan has great leadership abilities, exhibiting great strength in many classroom settings. When in a group activity, he often is the leader. He participates well in class, frequently answering questions or leading class discussions. He helps other students in class, monitoring and offering assistance when needed. He has a positive attitude, is a great role model for others, and consistently exhibits appropriate behavior in class. He has assisted other students in class and after school as well. Jonathan is a hard-working student who maintained an A average in class. He is self-motivated and very conscientious about his grades.

Jonathan is a great student with exceptional leadership qualities, a strong work ethic, and a desire to further his education. He is an asset to any classroom and/or work environment.

Sincerely,

Shelley J. Lingo
